laws. This practical evision of the present law, combined with the languishing condition of some of the great interests of the country, caused by warrants. over importations and consequent depressed prices, and with the failure in obtaining a foreign market sions, has induced me again to recommend a modification of the existing tariff.

The report of the Secretary of the Interior, which your particular attention. accompanies this communication, will present a condensed statement of the operations of that important department of the Government.

It will be seen that the cash sales of the public there is reason to anticipate a still further increase, aboriginal race. notwithstanding the large donations which have been made to many of the States, and the liberal country. Suitable measures bays been adopted for com mencing the survey of the public lands in California and Oregon. Surveying parties have been organized, and some progress has been made in establishing the principal base and moridian lines. But further legislation and additional appropriations will be necessary before the proper subdivicould be secured. A majority of the commissionber last, when detailed instructions were given to stead of the chase, for the means of support. them in regard to their duties. Their first meeting the commission, but to call your attention to the propriety of increasing the compensation of the and responsibility, and the compensation should be such as to command men of a high order of talents and the most unquestionable integrity.

The proper disposal of the mineral lands of California is a subject surrounded by great difficulties. In my last annual message I recommended the survey and sale of them in small parcels, under such restrictions as would effectually goard against monopoly and speculation. But upon further inchange that recommendation, and to advise that line. they be permitted to remain, as at present, a comdeveloped the best policy to be ultimately adopted in regard to them. It is safer to suffer the inconveniences that now exist, for a short period, than, by the copper mines. premature legislation, to fasten on the country a whole subject beyond the future control of Con-

The agricultural lands should, however, be surthe inhabitants stimulated to make permanent im- cient execution of their important duties. provements, and enter on the ordinary pursuits of life. To effect these objects it is desirable that the necessary provision be made by law for the estabearly day.

Some difficulties have occurred in organizing the be made on that subject.

In my last annual communication to Congress I Bureau, and I take this occasion again to invoke ting the certificates required by law. your favorable consideration of the subject.

Agriculture may justly be regarded as the great provisions for their protection and encouragement, and of our national character. little has yet been done directly for the advancement The want of a uniform fee bill, prescribing the omissions of those who have preceded them.

tributing seeds and plants and other vegetable pro- the Interior. ductions, with instructions in regard to the soil, climate, and treatment best adapted to their gress, a "very cheap instrument of immense national benefit.'

greatly reduced as to leave no doubt of the exist- carry into effect the recommendations of the De- The whole northwest appeals to you for relief, frequented polar regions. The officers and men ence of the most flagrant abuses under the existing partment, it is confidently expected that, before and I trust their appeal will receive due conside- of the expedition, having been all volunteers for the close of the next fiscal year, all who are entitled ration at your hands. to the benefits of the act will have received their

The Secretary of the Interior has suggested in his report various amendments of the laws relating for our increasing surplus of breadstuffs and provi- to pensions and bounty lands, for the purpose of more effectually guarding against abuses and frauds on the Government, to all of which I invite

The large accessions to our Indian population consequent upon the acquisition of New Mexico and California, and the extension of our settlements into Utah and Oregon, have given increased lands exceed those of the preceding year, and that interest and importance to our relations with the

No material change has taken place, within the last year, in the condition and prospects of the Ingrants to individuals as a reward for military ser- dian tribes who reside in the Northwestern Territovices. This fact furnishes very gratifying evi- ry and west of the Mississippi river. We are at dence of the growing wealth and prosperity of our peace with all of them; and it will be a source of pleasure to you to learn that they are gradually advancing in civilization and the pursuits of social

Along the Mexican frontier, and in California, and Oregon, there have been occasional manifestations of unfriendly feeling, and some depredations committed. I am satisfied, however, that they resulted more from the destitute and starving condition of sions can be made, and the general land system the Indians than from any settled hostility toward extended over those remote parts of our territory. the whites. As the settlements of our citizens pro-On the 3d of March last an act was passed pro- gress towards them, the game upon which they viding for the appointment of three commissioners mainly rely for subsistence is driven off or deto settle private land claims in California. Three stroyed, and the only alternative left to them is persons were immediately appointed, all of whom, starvation or plunder. It becomes us to consider, however, declined accepting the office, in conse- in view of this condition of things, whether justice quence of the inadequary of the compensation. and humanity, as well as an enlightened economy, Others were promptly selected, who, for the same do not require that, instead of seeking to punish reason, also declined; and it was not until late in them for offences which are the result of our own the season that the services of suitable persons policy towards them, we should not provide for their immediate wants and encourage them to eners convened, in this city, on the 10th of Septem- gage in agriculture, and to rely on their labor, in-

Various important treaties have been negotiated ing for the transaction of business will be held in with different tribes during the year, by which San Francisco on the 8th day of the present month. their title to large and valuable tracts of country I have thought it proper to refer to these facts, has been extinguished, all of which will, at the not only to explain the causes of the delay in fill- proper time, be submitted to the Senate for ratifica-

The joint commission under the treaty of Guadacommissioners. The office is one of great labor lupe Hidalgo has been actively engaged in run- the incursions of the savage tribes within our borning and marking the boundary line between the der "with equal diligence and energy" as if the United States and Mexico. It was stated, in the same were made within our territory or against last annual report of the Secretary of the Interior, our citizens. I have endeavored to comply, as that the initial point on the Pacific and the point of far as possible, with this provision of the treaty. junction of the Gila with the Colorado river had Orders have been given to the officers combeen determined, and the intervening line, about manding on that frontier to consider the Mexione hundred and fifty miles in length, run and can territory and its inhabitants as equally marked by temporary monuments. Since that with our own entitled to their protection; and time a monument of marble has been erected at to make all their plans and arrangements with formation, and in deference to the opinions of per- the initial point, and permanent landmarks of iron a view to the attainment of this object. Insons familiar with the subject, I am inclined to have been placed at suitable distances along the structions have also been given to the Indian common field, open to the caterprise and industry of fixed by the commissioners at latitude 32° 22', and all our citizens, until further experience shall have at the date of the last communication the survey of Mexico. I have no reason to doubt that these inthe line had been made thence westward about one structions have been fully carried into effect. Nehundred and fifty miles to the neighborhood of vertheless, it is probable that, in spite of all our

The commission on our part was at first organwieldy and attended with unnecessary expense. Orders have, therefore, been issued for the reduction of the number of persons employed within the that of Mexico, those that arise from its remoteveyed and brought into market with as little delay smallest limits, consistent with the safety of those ness, from the fact that we have no right to staas possible, that the titles may become settled, and engaged in the service, and the prompt and effi-engaged in taking the census in the States and Ter- tinue to be the case, the number and activity of our ritories, except California. The superintendent troops will rather increase than diminish the evil, lishment of land offices in California and Oregon, employed to make the enumeration in that State as the Indians will naturally turn towards that and for the efficient prozecution of the surveys at an bas not yet made his full report, from causes, as country where they encounter the least resistance. he alleges, beyond his control. This failure is Yet these troops are necessary to subdue them, and much to be regretted, as it has prevented the Sec- to compel them to make and observe treaties. Territorial governments of New Mexico and Utah; retary of the Interior from making the decennial Until this shall have been done, neither country and, when more accurate information shall be ob- apportionment of representatives among the States, will enjoy any security from their attacks. tained of the causes, a further communication will as required by the act approved May 23, 1850. It is hoped, however, that the returns will soon be received, and no time will then be lost in makrecommended the establishment of an Agricultural ing the necessary apportionment, and in transmit-

The Superintendent of the Seventh Census is diligently employed, under the direction of the interest of our people. Four-fifths of our active Secretary of the Interior, in classifying and arpopulation are employed in the cultivation of the ranging, in tabular form, all the statistical informasoil, and the rapid expansion of our settlements tion derived from the returns of the marshals, and it over new territory is daily adding to the number is believed that when the work shall be completed of those engaged in that vocation. Justice and it will exhibit a more perfect view of the popucound policy, therefore, alike require that the lation, wealth, occupations, and social condition Government should use all the means authorized of a great country, than has ever been presented to by the Constitution to promote the interests and the world. The value of such a work, as the basis welfare of that important class of our fellow-citi- of enlightened legislation, can hardly be overzens. And yet it is a singular fact that, whilst the estimated; and I carnestly hope that Congress will manufacturing and commercial interests have en- lose no time in making the appropriations necesgaged the attention of Congress during a large sary to complete the classifications, and to pubportion of every session, and our statutes abound in lish the results in a style worthy of the subject of agriculture. It is time that this reproach to our compensation to be allowed district attorneys, legislation should be removed; and I sincerely hope clerks, marshals, and commissioners in civil and that the present Congress will not close their labors criminal cases, is the cause of much vexation, inwithout adopting efficient means to supply the justice, and complaint. I would recommend a thorough revision of the laws on the whole subject, and An Agricultural Bureau, charged with the duty the adoption of a tariff of fees which, as far as pracof collecting and disseminating correct informaticable, should be uniform, and prescribe a specific tion as to the best modes of cultivation, and of the compensation for every service which the officer most effectual means of preserving and restoring may be required to perform. This subject will be the fertility of the soil, and of procuring and dis- fully presented in the report of the Secretary of

In my last annual message I gave briefly my reasons for believing that you possessed the congrowth, could not fail to be, in the language of stitutional power to improve the harbors of our Washington, in his last annual message to Con- great lakes and seacoast, and the navigation of our principal rivers, and recommended that appropriations should be made for completing such works Regarding the act of Congress approved 29th as bad already been commenced, and for com-September, 1850, granting bounty lands to persons mencing such others as might seem to the wisdom who had been engaged in the military service of of Congress to be of public and general importthe country, as a great measure of national justice ance. Without repeating the reasons then urged, and munificence, an anxious desire has been felt, I deem it my duty again to call your attention to by the officers entrusted with its immediate execu- this important subject. The works on many of tion, to give prompt effect to its provisions. All the harbors were left in an unfinished state, and the means within their control were, therefore, consequently exposed to the action of the elebrought into requisition to expedite the adjudica- ments, which is fast destroying them. Great in the month of October, after having undergone tion of claims, and I am gratified to be able to numbers of lives and vast amounts of property state that near one hundred thousand applications are annually lost for want of safe and convewarrants issued within the short space of nine have been exposed to that dangerous navigation the objects of their search, but with new contribu- British post office, amounted to $6,727,866 78. months. If adequate provision be made by law to can fully appreciate the importance of this subject. tions to science and navigation from the un-

The same is in a measure true in regard to some of the harbors and inlets on the seacoast.

The unobstructed navigation of our large rivers empty into, and form a part of the Mississippi, and the value of the public lands in those regions would be greatly enhanced by freeing the navigation of those waters from obstructions. In view, therefore, of this great interest, I deem it my duty again to urge upon Congress to make such may deem necessary.

now in course of preparation, and will shortly be tioned is eminently worthy of your consideration. laid before you.

The protection of our southwestern frontier, and the last session, to adopt my recommendation that adapted to that service should be raised, all that remained to be done was to make the best use of the means at my disposal. Accordingly, all the troops adapted to that service that could properly be spared from other quarters have been concentrated on lected to command them. A new arrangement the troops are brought nearer to the Mexican frontier and to the tribes they are intended to overawe. Sufficient time has not yet elapsed to realize all the benefits that are expected to result from these arrangements, but I have every reason to hope that they will effectually check their marauding expeditions. The nature of the country, which furnishes little for the support of an army and abounds in places of refuge and concealment, is remarkably well adapted to this predatory warforce, combined with the greatest vigilance, can entirely suppress it.

By the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo we are bound to protect the territory of Mexico against missioners and agents among these tribes, in all The initial point on the Rio Grande has also been treaties, to make the clauses designed for the protection of our own citizens apply also to those of efforts, some of the neighboring States of Mexico may have suffered, as our own have, from depredations by the Indians.

It the utmenties of defending our own territory, as above mentioned, are superadded, in defending tion our troops within her limits, and that there is no efficient military force on the Mexican side to co-Returns have been received from all the officers operate with our own. So long as this shall con-

> The Indians in California, who had previously apcommitted several acts of hostility. As a large year being $5,900,621. portion of the reinforcements sent to the Mexican force now stationed there is considered entirely inadequate to its defence. It cannot be increased, however, without an increase of the army; and I the protection of the frontier.

subject, and on others connected with his Depart- yards, buildings and machinery. ment, in the report of the Secretary of War.

The appropriations for the support of the army during the current fiscal year ending 30th June ted by the Department. The consequence of this reduction is a considerable deficiency, to which I invite your early attention.

The expenditures of that Department, for the year ending 30th June last, were $9,060,268 58. The estimates for the year commencing 1st July next and ending June 30, 1853, are $7,898,775 83; showing a reduction of $1,161,492 75.

The Board of Commissioners, to whom the management of the affairs of the Military Asylum created by the act of 3d March last was entrusted, have selected a site for the establishment of an Asylum in the vicinity of this city, which has been $3,421,754. approved by me, subject to the production of a satinfactory title.

affoat during the present year has been actively through the Navy Department. and usefully employed in giving protection to our widely-extended and increasing commerce and our flag has everywhere afforded the security and liberality of our intercourse, and the dignity and power of the nation.

mander. Sir John Franklin, and his compan- discontinued, during the year. ions in the Arctic Seas, returned to New York this service, and having so conducted it as to meet the entire approbation of the Government, it is suggested, as an act of grace and generosity, that the same allowances of extra pay and emoluments is of equal importance. Our settlements are now be extended to them that were made to the officers extending to the sources of the great rivers which and men of like rating in the late exploring expedition to the South Seas.

I earnestly recommend to your attention the necessity of reorganizing the Naval Establishment, apportioning and fixing the number of officers in each grade, providing some mode of promotion to the higher grades of the navy, having reference appropriations for these improvements as they to merit and capacity, rather than seniority or date of entry into the service, and for retiring from The survey of the Delta of the Mississippi, with a the effective list upon reduced pay those who may view to the prevention of the overflows that have be incompetent to the performance of active duty. proved so disastrous to that region of country, have As a measure of economy as well as of efficiency in been nearly completed, and the reports thereof are this arm of the service, the provision last men-

The determination of the questions of relative rank between the sea officers and civil officers of the of the adjacent Mexican States, against the Indian navy, and between officers of the army and tribes within our border, has claimed my earnest navy, in the various grades of each, will aland constant attention. Congress having failed, at so merit your attention. The failure to provide any substitute, when corporal punishment an additional regiment of mounted men specially was abolished for offences in the navy, has occasioned the convening of numerous courts-martial upon the arrival of vessels in port, and is believed to have had an injurious effect upon the discipline and efficiency of the service. To moderate punishment from one grade to another is among the that frontier, and officers of high reputation se- humane reforms of the age; but to abolish one of severity, which applied so generally to offences on of the military posts has also been made, whereby ship-board, and provide nothing in its stead, is to suppose a progress of improvement in every individual among seamen which is not assumed by the Legislature in respect to any other class of men. It is hoped that Congress, in the ample opportunity afforded by the present session, will thoroughly investigate this important subject, and establish such modes of determining guilt, and such gradations of punishment as are consistent with humanity and the personal rights of individuals, and at the same time shall ensure the most energefare; and we can scarcely hope that any military tic and efficient performance of duty and the suppression of crime in our ships of war.

The stone dock in the navy yard at New York, which was ten years in process of construction, has been so far finished as to be surrendered up to the authorities of the vard. The dry dock at Philadelphia is reported as completed, and is expected soon to be tested and delivered over to the agents of the Government. That at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, is also nearly ready for delivery; and a contract has been concluded, agreeably to the act of Congress at its last session, for a floating sectional dock on the Bay of San Francisco. I invite your attention to the recommendation of the Department touching the establishment of a navy yard in conjunction with this dock on the Pacific. Such a station is highly necessary to the convenience and effectiveness of our fleet in that ocean, which must be expected to increase with the growth of commerce, and the rapid extension of our whale fisheries over its waters.

The Naval Academy at Annapolis, under a revised and improved system of regulations, now affords opportunities of education and instruction to the pupils quite equal, it is believed, for professional improvement, to those enjoyed by the cadets in the Military Academy. A large class of acting midshipmen was received at the commencement of the last academic term, and a practice-ship has been attached to the institution, to afford the amplest means for regular instruction in seamanship, as well as for cruises during the vacations of three or four months in each year.

The advantages of science in nautical affairs have fact stated in the report of the Navy Department. passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific ports of our country has been shortened by about forty days. The estimates for the support of the Navy and peared of a peaceable character, and disposed to Marine Corps the ensuing fiscal year will be found cultivate the friendship of the whites, have recently to be $5,856,472 19, the estimates for the current

The estimates for special objects under the conagainst $2,210,980 for the present year, the increase being occasioned by the additional mail service on the Pacific coast and the construction of again recommend that measure as indispensable to the dock in California, authorized at the last session of Congress, and some slight additions under I invite your attention to the suggestions on this the head of improvements and repairs in navy

I deem it of much importance to a just economy. and a correct understanding of naval expenditures, that there should be an entire separation of action. next, were reduced far below the estimate submit- the appropriations for the support of the naval service proper from those for permanent improvements at navy yards and stations, and from ocean steam-mail service, and other special objects assigned to the supervision of this Department.

The report of the Postmaster General, herewith communicated, presents an interesting view of the progress, operations, and condition of his Depart-

At the close of the last fiscal year, the length of mail routes within the United States was 196,290 miles; the annual transportation thereon 53,272,252 miles; and the annual cost of such transportation at 18,349 miles; and the annual transportation venient halls for the deliberations of the two Houses The report of the Secretary of the Navy will ex- thereon at 615,206 miles. The annual cost of this of Congress, with sufficient accommodations for hibit the condition of the public service under the service is $1,472,187, of which $448,937 is paid by spectators, and suitable apartments for the comsupervision of that Department. Our naval force the Post Office Department, and $1,023,250 is paid

The annual transportation within the United States (excluding the service in California and Oreinterests in the various quarters of the globe, and gon, which is now, for the first time, reported and sally admired. Keeping these objects in view, I received the respect inspired by the justice and ment) exceeds that of the preceding year 6,162,855 ed from the present building, yet connected with it miles, at an increased cost of $547,110.

The whole number of post offices in the United The expedition commanded by Lieutenant Do States, on the 30th day of June last, was 19,796. vantages for ventilation and the admission of Haven, despatched in search of the British com- There were 1,698 post offices established, and 256 fiscal year, including the appropriations for the experienced and competent architect. The corgreat peril and suffering from an unknown and franked matter of Congress, of the Departments, ner-stone was laid on the 4th day of July last, dangerous navigation and the rigors of a northern and officers of Government, and excluding the with suitable ceremonics, since which time the have been considered, and about seventy thousand nient harbors on the lakes. None but those who climate, without any satisfactory information of foreign postages, collected for and payable to, the work has advanced with commendable rapidi-

$20,599 49, paid under an award of the Auditor, penditures of the year of $703,299 99.

The receipts for postages during the year (ex-

The reduction of postage, under the act of March last, did not take effect until the commenceduced rates, will not be settled before January an appeal to Congress should be adopted. next; and no reliable estimate of the receipts for the present year can vet be made. It is believed. however, that they will fall far short of those of the last year. The surplus of the revenues now on hand is, however, so large that no further appropriation from the treasury, in aid of the revenues of the Department, is required for the current fiscal year; but an additional appropriation for the year ending June 30, 1853, will probably be found necessary when the receipts of the first two quarters of the fiscal year are fully ascertained.

In his last annual report the Postmaster General ecommended a reduction of postage to rates which he deemed as low as could be prudently adopted. unless Congress was prepared to appropriate from the treasury, for the support of the Department, sum more than equivalent to the mail services performed by it for the Government. The recommendations of the Postmaster General, in respect to letter postage, except on letters from and to California and Oregon, were substantially adopted by the last Congress. He now recommends adherence further reduction until justified by the revenue of the Department.

He also recommends that the rates of postage on printed matter be so revised as to render them more simple, and more uniform in their operation upon all classes of printed matter. I submit the recommendations of the report to your favorable consideration.

ment, or penitentiary confinement, in the different States.

difficult to determine whether the particular clause expires with the temporary act of which it is a part, or continues in force. It has also frequentrarely been more strikingly illustrated than in the ly happened that enactments and provisions of is comparatively small, and is believed to be daily that, by means of the wind and current charts, or general subject of which they have little or one which involves the supremacy and even the projected and prepared by Lieutenant Maury, the no connexion or relation. In this mode of le- existence of the Constitution. Superintendent of the Naval Observatory, the gislation so many enactments have been heaped Cases have heretofore arisen in which individu to search out and determine what is the law.

The Government of the United States is emphatbe made accessible to all, but be expressed in lanall, and arranged in such method as to give perspicuity to every subject. Many of the States have revised their public acts with great and manifest benefit; and I recommend that provision be made by law for the appointment of a commission to revise the public statutes of the United language, and reporting them to Congress for its 850, contained a provision for the extension of the Capitol, according to such plan as might be approved by the President, and appropriated one his direction, by such architect as he should appoint to execute the same. On examining the various plans which had been submitted by different architects, in pursuance of an advertisement by a committee of the Senate, no one was found to be entirely satisfactory, and it was therefore deemed advisable to combine and adopt the advan-

The great object to be accomplished was to make The length of the foreign mail routes is estimated such an addition as would afford ample and conmittees and officers of the two branches of the Legislature. It was also desirable not to mar the harmony and beauty of the present structure, which, as a specimen of architecture, is so univerembraced in the tabular statements of the Depart- concluded to make the addition by wings, detachby corridors. This mode of enlargement will leave the present Capitol uninjured, and afford great adlight, and will enable the work to progress without interrupting the deliberations of Congress. To The gross revenues of the Department for the carry this plan into effect I have appointed an ty, and the foundations of both wings are now

I again commend to your favorable regard the in pursuance of a resolution of the last Congress, interests of the District of Columbia, and deem it for mail service on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers only necessary to remind you, that although its in 1832 and 1833, and the amount paid to the Brit- inhabitants have no voice in the choice of represenish post office for foreign postages collected for and tatives in Congress, they are not the less entitled to payable to that office) amounted to $6,024,566 79; a just and liberal consideration in your legislation. leaving a balance of revenue over the proper ex. My opinions on this subject were more fully expressed in my last annual communication.

Other subjects were brought to the attention of cluding the foreign postages collected for and pay- Congress in my last annual message, to which able to the British post office) amounted to $6,345,- I would respectfully refer. But there was one 74721, being an increase of $997,61079, or 18.65-100 of more than ordinary interest to which I again per cent. over the like receipts for the preceding invite your special attention. I allude to the recommendation for the appointment of a commission to settle private claims against the United States. Justice to individuals as well as ment of the present fiscal year. The accounts for to the Government imperatively demands that the first quarter, under the operation of the re- some more convenient and expeditious mode than

It is deeply to be regretted that in several instances officers of the Government, in attempting to execute the law for the return of fugitives from labor, have been openly resisted, and their efforts frustrated and defeated by lawless and violent mobs; that in one case such resistance resulted in the death of an estimable citizen, and in others serious injury ensued to those officers and to individuals who were using their endeavors to sustain the laws. Prosecutions have been instituted against the alleged offenders, so far as they could be identified, and are still pending. I have regarded it as my duty, in these cases, to give all aid legally in my power to the enforcement of the laws, and I shall continue to do so wherever and whenever their execution may be resisted.

The act of Congress for the return of fugitives from labor is one required and demanded by the express words of the Constitution

The Constitution declares, "That no person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of to the present letter rates, and advises against a 'any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor ' may be due." This constitutional provision is equally obligatory upon the Legislative, the Execu tive, and Judicial Departments of the Government. and upon every citizen of the United States.

Congress, however, must, from necessity, first act upon the subject, by prescribing the proceedings ne-The public statutes of the United States have cessary to ascertain that the person is a fugitive, and now been accumulating for more than sixty years, the means to be used for his restoration to the claim. and, interspersed with private acts, are scattered ant. This was done by an act passed during through numerous volumes, and, from the cost of the first term of President Washington, which was the whole, have become almost inaccessible to the amended by that enacted by the last Congress, and great mass of the community. They also exhibit it now remains for the Executive and Judicial De much of the incongruity and imperfection of hasty partments to take care that these laws be faithfully egislation. As it seems to be generally conceded executed. This injunction of the Constitution is as that there is no "common law" of the United peremptory and as binding as any other; it stands States to supply the defects of their legislation, it exactly on the same foundation as that clause is most important that that legislation should be as which provides for the return of fugitives from jusperfect as possible, defining every power intended tice, or that which declares that no bill of attainder to be conferred, every crime intended to be made or ex post facto law shall be passed, or that which punishable, and prescribing the punishment to be provides for an equality of taxation, according to inflicted. In addition to some particular cases the census, or the clause declaring that all duties spoken of more at length, the whole criminal code shall be uniform throughout the United States, now lamentably defective. Some offences are or the important provision that the trial of all imperfectly described, and others are entirely crimes shall be by jury. These several artiomitted; so that flagrant crimes may be commit- cles and clauses of the Constitution, all rest ted with impunity. The scale of punishment is ing on the same authority, must stand or fall not in all cases graduated according to the degree together. Some objections have been urged and nature of the offence, and is often rendered against the details of the act for the return of fumore unequal by the different modes of imprison- gitives from labor; but it is worthy of remark that the main opposition is aimed against the Constitution itself, and proceeds from persons and classes Many laws of a permanent character have been of persons, many of whom declare their wish to introduced into appropriation bills, and it is often see that Constitution overturned. They arow their hostility to any law which shall give full and practical effect to this requirement of the Constitution. Fortunately, the number of these persons law have been introduced into bills, with the title diminishing, but the issue which they present is upon each other, and often with but little con- als have denied the binding authority of acts of sideration, that, in many instances, it is difficult Congress, and even States have proposed to nullify such acts, upon the ground that the Constitution was the supreme law of the land, and that ically a government of written laws. The statutes those acts of Congress were repugnant to that inshould, therefore, as far as practicable, not only strument; but nullification is now aimed, not so much against particular laws as being inconsistfrontier were drawn from the Pacific, the military trol of this Department amount to $2,684,220 89, guage so plain and simple as to be understood by ent with the Constitution, as against the Consti tution itself; and it is not to be disguised that a spirit exists and has been actively at work to rend asunder this Union, which is our cherished inheritance from our revolutionary fathers.

> In my last annual message I stated that I considered the series of measures, which had been States, arranging them in order, supplying defi- adopted at the previous session, in reference to the ciencies, correcting incongruities, simplifying their agitation growing out of the Territorial and slavery questions, as a final settlement in principle and substance of the dangerous and exciting sub-An act of Congress approved 30th September, jects which they embraced; and I recommended adherence to the Adjustment established by those measures, until time and experience should demonstrate the necessity of further legislation to nundred thousand dollars to be expended under guard against evasion or abuse. I was not induced to make this recommendation because I thought those measures perfect, for no human legislation can be perfect. Wide differences and jarring opinions can only be reconciled by yielding something on all sides, and this result had been reached after an angry conflict of many months, in which one part of the country was arrayed against another, and violent convulsion seemed to be imminent. Looking at the interests of the whole country, I felt it to be my duty to seize upon this Compromise as the best that could be obtained amid conflicting interests, and to insist upon it as a final settlement, to be adhered to by all .who value the peace and welfare of the country. A year has now elapsed since that recommendation was made. To that recommendation I still adhere, and I congratulate you and the country upon the general acquiescence in these measures of peace, which has been exhibited in all parts of the Republic. And not only is there this general acquiescence in these measures, but the spirit of conciliation which has been manifested in regard to them in all parts of the country, has removed doubts and uncertainties in the minds of thousands of good men concerning the durability of our popular institutions, and given renewed assurance that our Liberty and our Union may subsist together for the benefit of th's and all succeeding generations.

MILLARD FILLMORE. WASHINGTON, December 2, 1851.